Introduction

The Electric Merchants' Association, established in 1937, now an ISO 9001:2015 certified Association, has earned a undisputed reputation as a leading association, fostering the interests of trade and industry. Always leading from the front, it has worked hard to promote the interests of not only its members, but, the interests of trade in general.

Promotion of trade and business, safeguarding the interest of its members, legal solutions, cultural activities, staff welfare, personality development, social commitments are some of the areas where the association has contributed significantly.

Sports are one area where EMA is very active. It is this very medium that provided the opportunity for collaborating with one another and creating solid platform for mutual benefit. EMA conducted the Inter Association Cricket tournament for thirteen long years. It is with this successful experience as a background that we conduct the Inter Corporate Cricket Tournament, comprising of companies mainly connected with the electrical trade and with EMA as host.
